Police Report Quiet Weekend

PUTNAM COUNTY YOUNG PEOPLE SELECTED BY 4-H CLUB COUNCIL

Police reported a very quiet Decorative Day week end in Greencastle. There were no arrests and no accidents although motor traffic was extremely heavy on roads 40, 36 and 43 on Saturday night and Sunday.

Business was at a standstill in the community as the city observed Memorial Day giving employers and employees a two-day vacation.

Many took advantage of the holiday to visit relatives and friends in other localities, while others remained at home and enjoyed a rest. A number of local families entertained weekend visitors.

The holiday weekend started Saturday night with a Lions Club sponsored dance at the National Guard Armory on east Washington street.

Soybean Planting Slowed By Rains

Heavy rains in central Indiana during late May that have delayed soybean planting or required replanting will increase interest in earlier maturing soybean varieties according to County Agent K. W. Harris. This will be especially true if corn and soybean planting is further delayed by unfavorable weather.

The new Hawkeye soybean can be widely used this year where farmers are forced to plant late with little or no yield reduction under Lincoln planted at the same time. Since the Hawkeye matures in a weeks less time than the Lincoln, earlier combining will be possible which in turn permits the earlier sowing of wheat.

The Hawkeye should replace the Richmond in farm planting as it grows taller, is equally erect, is higher yielding, and matures equally early.

For very late seeding, the Earlylyana can be used due to still earlier maturity and ability to make satisfactory growth in spite of delayed planting. Under unusual conditions such as sometimes prevail in the Kankakee marsh, the very early Ottawa Mandarin should be used as it matures in ten days less than the Earlylyana. Mandarin should be used only on muck or marsh soils where the growing season is very short. Names of farmer-growers of certified seed of all these varieties are available at the county agent's office.

SUSPEND BEER PERMITS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.— (INS)—Eight Hoosier liquor dispensers are temporarily out of business today because the Alcoholic Beverage Commission has found them guilty of permitting minors to loiter.

Eight of the 11 suspensions of permits, announced today by the ABC, were for allowing minors to loiter where drinks are sold.
These included John N. Davis, and Basil Burton, Indianapolis, and Milan Ristoff, Gary, each 30 days; Joseph and Kaye Greco, Jr., Beverly Shores; Clarence W.
Donham, Terre Haute; Benjamin King, Seelyville; Rolla Williams; Monticello; and Fred and Robert Brough, Monticello, each seven days.

The Slovenian National Home Association, Indianapolis, lost its permit for seven days on a charge of after hours sale and after hour consumption. The Chatterbox, Indianapolis, was suspended for the same length of time on a charge of selling to drunks.

DONELSON IS CO. CHAIRMAN IN STATE DRIVE

CAMPAIGN PLANNED TO AID RESEARCH IN CHILDREN'S DISEASES

N. L. Donelson has volunteered to act as chairman of Putnam county in the state-wide drive for support for the Riley Children's Research Fund, seeking $1,000-000 in gifts, pledges and bequests to carry on intensive investigation in the field of children's diseases.

Mr. Donelson's appointment was announced today by Anton J. Hulman, Jr., Terre Haute, state chairman.

Mr. Donelson has announced that he has appointed Walter Ballard to act as vice chairman of the drive in Putnam county.

An organization meeting will be held on Thursday, June 2nd, at which time the organization personnel for Putnam county will be announced. Plans will be made at this meeting for bringing the importance of the project to the citizens of the county.

"With the help of public spirited citizens whose services will said Mr. Donelson.

Congress Will Adjourn Aug. 15

WASHINGTON, May 30.— Democratic leaders were reported today to be preparing for adjournment of congress August 15 although President Truman has called upon them to fight for the fair deal welfare program if it should take all summer and into the fall.

While leaders emphasized that there was no break with the White House, they said they are meeting the situation realistically and are aware that congress just isn't going to pass the Truman program. Mr. Truman does not have the strength to put over the program, they said.

Democratic leaders would not be quoted less their statements be taken as a split with the White House, but they said the opposition to the chief executive's program cannot be overcome by prolonging the present session of congress even to next January when the second session will begin.

Mr. Truman told his news conference last Thursday that he wants every bit of his social and economic program passed before congress folds its doors and goes home. The program has almost two dozen items.

Influential Democrats said Mr. Truman will be lucky to get final action on a half dozen items before congress adjourns.
They emphasized that final action does not mean approval but merely a vote.

MODERN MAYFLOWER

LONDON, May 30.—The Mayflower landed here Saturday a new era—300 mile per hour age.
The Mayflower is the largest and fastest commercial plane ever built. The gleaming silver and blue craft left New York's International airport Friday and 9 hours, 52 minutes later set down at Shannon airport in Ireland.

After a delay of two hours waiting for the clouds to break up over the London airport, the big, Boeing built, Pan American Airlines operated plane came on here.

The ship averaged 304 miles per hour on the trans-Atlantic run, including the time for takeoff and landing. During the last five hours, rushing above the thunderheads of the ocean at 25,000 feet, the plane cruised at 325 miles and still had not touched much of her 14,000 horse-power.

der charge in the death of Byron Hattman by a jury in district

TAKES PITTS' CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

JUDGE ALLEE WILL RULE
TUESDAY IN BAD CHECK
CASE

Russell H. Pitts, 32, appeared before Judge John H. Allee in the Putnam Circuit court Saturday noon for arraignment on the charge of issuing fraudulent checks. After hearing considerable evidence at his own request, Judge Allee took the case under advise until Tuesday at 9.30 A. M., at which time he will pass sentence. In the meantime, Pitts is being held in the county jail.

Evidence presented in the hearing by J. Frank Durham, Prosecuting Attorney, brought out the fact that Pitts issued a check to Robert W. Orr's tavern on May 23 for $10. The check was returned from the bank because of no account. Orr appeared on the witness stand and testified to accepting the check. Marvin Skimmerhorn, city chief of police, also appeared and testified to the arrest of Pitts on the charge of issuing the worthless check. Orr testified that Pitts gave the name of Skimmerhorn as reference when he presented the check for payment.

Skimmerhorn also told of Sam Hanna chasing a check for Pitts on a Chicago bank for $10. He said Mr. Hanna was called from his home to the store and then cashed the check. He also testified that State Police records show Pitts had been arrested several times, once in Chicago last September on a supposed murder charge and later on other charges of a minor nature.

Following his arrest last week, Pitts attempted to take his own life by cutting his wrist with a razor blade. He was sent to the hospital from the jail and when he appeared in court he showed the effects of his jail experience.

GASOLINE TAXES HIT $1,300,000,000

CHICAGO, May 30.—The nation's motorists paid $1,300,000,- 000 in state motor fuel taxes last year, the Federation of Tax Administrators reports. The total is an all-time record.

It was the third successive year when the states reaped more than a billion dollars from this source. The figure was $1,186,000,000 in 1947 and $1,- 137,000,000 in 1946, the Federation said today.

Last year's 11.8 per cent rise "corresponded with the increase in the number of motor vehicles on the highways," the Federation noted, "with auto registration at an all-time high at the end of 1948." Increases in the tax rates of several states also were factors.

DECORATION DAY IS OBSERVED AROUND GLOBE

Americans in the United States and throughout the world observed Memorial Day today with the theme a hope for firm and lasting peace.

The weather in much of the country was not ideal for the three-day holiday ending today, but this did not deter patriotic observances and vacation celebrants.

The nation's capital led the country in observing the day dedicated to those killed in the wars fought to preserve the liberty and independence of the United States.

Secretary of Defense Johnson struck the keynote of the day when he declared:
"This time we must make sure.
It must never happen again. On this Memorial Day, let us pledge ourselves to the unfinished task of paying the debt to our dead."

President Truman suggested that Americans "appeal to almighty God for help in turning the steps of the world to the paths of permanent peace."

Abroad the most impressive ceremony marking the day probably was that planned for the spot marking Anzio Beach in Italy.

General Mark Clark was among the high ranking generals to attend the ceremonies marking the spot where Allied troops took part in one of the fiercest battles of World War II.

The day also was noted in Britain, Belgium, Holland, France, Germany, Luxembourg and Trieste, wherever Americans are stationed. American forces in the Pacific also held observances from Hawaii to Japan.

2 AMERICANS KILLED LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 30—

(INS)—Fierce clashes between striking miners and Bolivian troops were reported today to have resulted in the deaths of at least 150 persons, including two American engineers.

J. L. HAMILTON PASSED AWAY; RITES TUESDAY

FORMER CIRCUIT COURT
CLERK DIED AT COUN-TY HOSPITAL

James L. Hamilton, age 61 years, well known Greencastle resident, passed away Sunday morning at the Putnam county hospital following an illness of several months.

Mr. Hamilton was born January 13, 1868, at Portland Mills, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hamilton. He was united in marriage to Mary Reeder Beck, of Augusta, Ky., May 19, 1899.
She preceded him in death several years ago.

The deceased served two terms as clerk of the Putnam circuit court. He was also a building contractor and operated a musical instrument business here in later years. He was a member of the First Christian church.

He is survived by two brothers, Fay S. Hamilton, Greencastle; Claude B. Hamilton, Eureka, Montana; and a "sister," Mrs.
Claire H. Gibson, Greencastle.

Last rites will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.
(DST) from the McCurry Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Portland Mills cemetery.

Couple Killed At Belleville

A Monrovia couple on their way to Danville for a Memorial Day visit was killed Sunday near Belleville when their car was struck by a train.

Harry W. Fisher, Sr., 59 years old, and his wife, Eunice Kelly Fisher, 55, died instantly.
Their automobile was battered to pieces by the impact with which a fast Pennsylvania Railroad train struck it at a county road crossing 1 1/2 miles north of Belleville.

Wreckage was strewn along the track for several hundred feet. The bulk of the car body was found 125 feet from the crossing, and the motor came to rest another 75 feet up the track.

Fisher, who formerly operated the pool room at Danville, and his wife were turning to Danville to visit friends and relatives for the holidays, investigators said.

State police and Hendricks County Sheriff Leon Bayless found skid marks at the crossing, indicating Fisher had made a vain attempt to halt the car at the last minute.

CARDINAL DIES

PARIS, May 30.—(INS)—Emmanuel Cardinal Suhard, archbishop of Paris, died early today of a heart attack. He was 75.

He was appointed to the sacred college of cardinals in 1935 and became archbishop of Paris

HOLIDAY ACCIDENT TOLL REACHES 122

The country reached the halfway mark of predicted holiday deaths Sunday as the toll mounted to 122. This compared with a national safety council prediction of 215 for the three-day holiday.

California led the grim parade, recording eight traffic deaths, three by drowning and two miscellaneous. Ohio and Illinois each had eight traffic deaths, followed by North Carolina with seven—all in one accident. Pen-sylvania was fifth with six.
Traffic accounted for 85, drowning 17, and miscellaneous 20.

HELD FOR MURDER

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 30.— Richard Thomas Merle, 26-year-old Evansville College sophomore, was charged with murder today in the slaying of his former wife, a campus beauty queen.

Merle said Merle probably will be arraigned in City Court Tuesday on the first degree murder charge, which carries a possible death sentence.

Merle admitted he shot Mrs.
Helen Doris Merle, 25, attractive brunette who was homecoming queen at Evansville College last year, in her bedroom last night when she refused to return to live with him.

Vets' Groups To Picnic On Sunday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Ladies Auxiliary and the newly formed Fathers' Auxiliary will hold a picnic picnic supper at the Gen. Jesse M. Lee Post Home on Sunday, June 5th, at 6 o'clock (DST).

This promises to be one of the biggest affairs held in recent months at the veterans' home.
Each family group is asked to bring covered dishes and their own table service as well as individuals.

V. F. W. Post 1550 has made elaborate plans for the joint picnic-in supper meeting. A large representation from each of the three units is expected to attend the event.

Impromptu talks and probably a short program will feature the session.

FORD STRIKE IS OVER; WORKERS BACK TUESDAY

DETROIT, Mich., May 30.— Announcement was made today of the settlement of the costly 24-day-old Ford strike. It was expected men would pour back into the plants starting tomorrow, but it will require about ten days for all plants to get underway.

The key issue in the complicated speedup dispute which brought the walkout was left to arbitration.

The settlement was announced about 1 a. m. today after several days of nearly continuous negotiations attended by Federal mediators.

The agreement must be ratified by Ford Rouge and Lincoln plants later today but that was regarded as a formality.

The terms provide that three-man subcommittees from the Ford Motor Company and the CIO United Auto Workers will meet Tuesday and try for three days to decide on a single arbitrator.

From past experience there seemed little likelihood there would be agreement.

The terms then provide that the subcommittees will name two arbitrators. The company presumably will name an industrial engineer while the union probably will name a labor economist. It was the position of company and union that these representatives be the single arbitrator that brought the impasse.

The two arbitrators then will name a third party.
If, however, agreement cannot be reached by 5 p. m. June 7, Dr. Harry Shulman, impartial umpire under the Ford-UAW contract, automatically becomes the third member.

GREENCASTLE PAID TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM HELD SUNDAY AT FOREST HILL

Greencastle paid tribute to its dead of all wars Sunday afternoon at Forest Hill cemetery, following a parade which formed at the intersection of Hanna and Locust streets at 1:30 P. M.

Gaillard Brown acted as marshal and the procession also had a city police escort. Music was furnished by the Greencastle high school band under the direction of Don Marketto. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and representatives of various patriotic, fraternal and civic organizations also were in the march to the cemetery. All graves of veterans, who have passed on, were marked with flags and many with bouquets.

The Star Spangled Banner was played by the band and the Rev.
Ralph Saunders, pastor of the Christian church, offered the invocation.

Lloyd Perry, member of Gen.
Jesse M. Lee Post 1550, Veterans of Foreign Wars, read Order No.
11, issued by General John A.
Logan to the Grand Army of the Republic in Washington, D. C. on May 30, 1868, regarding the establishment of a Memorial Day for the dead comrades of the Civil war.

Helen Miles sang a beautiful solo, the VFW National song. She was unaccompanied.

Clyde Miller then introduced Louis H. Dirks, Dean Emeritus of DePaul University, who delivered the Memorial address.

Dean Dirks said that words were too insignificant to express our debt to those who made the supreme sacrifice for their country. He stated that he was confident that Memorial Day was very close to everyone assembled in Forest Hill with the end of World War II only a very few years ago.

He said the greatest memorial address ever given was delivered by Abraham Lincoln in 1863 at Gettysburg in just three minutes.

The speaker pointed out that those who did not come back, left unfinished tasks and he urged those present to dedicate the future to trying to complete the work our war dead would have wanted to accomplish.

In closing, Dean Dirks said that a true peace will not come until we all try to be a little kinder to all those with whom we come in contact and whom we until we all try to be more useful in the world of the future.

Salute and Taps and the benediction by the Rev. Saunders completed the impressive program as another Memorial Day observance blended into history in this community.

AS HE HAS in the past, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal is facing a barrage of senatorial criticism. In reply to demands by members of the Senate and by Lilienthal himself that his guardianship of atomic energy be investigated, Senator Brien McMahon, chairman of the Atomic Energy committee, has opened hearings into charges that the AEC chairman is guilty of "incredible mismanagement." Senators who joined in the criticism of Lilienthal included Bourke B. Hickenlooper, (R), Iowa, Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, and Arthur H. Vandenberg (R), Michigan. (International)

Sudan Grass Proves Boon To Dairymen

The dairyman's old boggy of an expected drop in summer milk production due to shortage of pasture can be prevented by seeding Sudan grass now, say the Purdue agronomists. This fact can be testified to by the thousands of Indiana dairymen who have used Sudan grass a supplementary pasture. Dairymen find that Sudan grass almost always increases the milk flow over that of the pasture previously grazed. Its use is especially applicable this year when so many farmers have lost their stand of alfalfa or clover by last summer's drought or through winter killing.

Sudan grass is easy to grow, requires no extra tools and the cost of seeding is reasonable. A seed bed is prepared as for corn, using early spring plowed land when available. The wheat side of the grain drill is used and the seed drilled at the rate of 25lbs. to 30 lbs. per acre.

This means setting the drill on the wheat scale at two and one half to three and one half pecks per acre.

Sudan grass is a sorghum, hence a warm weather crop and should not have been planted before May 20. It should be ready for grazing in about five weeks but not until it reaches a height of 14 inches. More rapid growth and a better quality of grazing may be obtained by applying 200 to 300 pounds of 0-20-10 or 0-20-20 fertilizer per acre at seeding time.

Sweet sudan is more palatable than ordinary Sudan but is slower in starting. An acre of Sudan should carry one or more cows per acre or the equivalent of other livestock, but its carrying capacity can be increased if alternated with other pasture or if Sudan grass is divided for alternate grazing. Grazing the new growth that Sudan grass produces after frost should be avoided.

SWEET CLOVER DAMAGED BY A NEW INSECT

LAFAYETTE, Ind. May 30—M. Curtis Wilson, entomology department, Purdue University, said today that Indiana sweet clover crop is being seriously damaged by sweet clover weevil.

Wilson advised farmers to inspect their fields now for injury caused by the insect. Ordinarily farmers are not aware of the depredations of this insect until they harvest wheat or oats, when much reduced sweet clover stand is noticed. At that time it is too late to save the crop.

The insect is an inconspicuous small, dark gray weevil which attacks young sweet clover, and with a ravenous appetite, eats crescent shaped holes in the leaves.

An early and favorable season has produced better stands of sweet clover than for several years.

Wilson advises the use of insecticides applied before the nurse crop of wheat or oats is too high to dust effectively. Most wheat is getting too high to treat with expectations of best weevil control. However, now is the time to treat sweet clover planted with oats. The sweet clover is in its most vulnerable state and the oats are not high enough to prohibit coverage of the clover and ground with an insecticide.

Where weevil injury is serious, airplane dusting with DDT or Toxaphene at the rate of 30 lbs. or a five percent dust per acre is recommended.

Lonely Hearts Kiss

Major and Mrs. Fred Jordan and family of New York, spent the Memorial Day week-end in Greencastle. Major Jordan, a former local boy, was busy renewing old acquaintances while in the city.

The D. A. R. District meeting will be held June 1 at Old Trail Inn. Registration at 10:30 o'clock, luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. The past regents will be hostesses. Everybody urged to come as the state and national officers will be present.

Some people do not believe Friday the 13th is unlucky. Last Friday, being the hoodoo day, five couples got marriage licenses at the Clerk's Office. Maybe they are going to put the superstition to test. Danville Republican.

Mrs. Howard Buis left Sunday for New York City where she will take a plane for London, England, to visit her mother and other relatives. Mrs. Buis, a British war bride, expects to be gone several weeks. The trip by plane requires only 15 hours.

Here's the best one we have heard on the time dispute. O. S. Osborne of Amo has a Seth Thomas clock that is over 100 years old. It hasn't been in use for 15 years until Bill Newman overhauled it recently. It worked perfectly. Mr. Osborne stayed on Central Standard Time but when the time changed here's what the clock did about it—the hands told Central Standard Time, but the strikers told Daylight Saving Time. Too bad some of the time grippers couldn't adjust themselves to the situation as did the clock—Danville Republican.

The D. A. R. District meeting will be held June 1 at Old Trail Inn. Registration at 10:30 o'clock, luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. The past regents will be hostesses. Everybody urged to come as the state and national officers will be present.

Some people do not believe Friday the 13th is unlucky. Last Friday, being the hoodoo day, five couples got marriage licenses at the Clerk's Office. Maybe they are going to put the superstition to test. Danville Republican.

Mrs. Howard Buis left Sunday for New York City where she will take a plane for London, England, to visit her mother and other relatives. Mrs. Buis, a British war bride, expects to be gone several weeks. The trip by plane requires only 15 hours.

Here's the best one we have heard on the time dispute. O. S. Osborne of Amo has a Seth Thomas clock that is over 100 years old. It hasn't been in use for 15 years until Bill Newman overhauled it recently. It worked perfectly. Mr. Osborne stayed on Central Standard Time but when the time changed here's what the clock did about it—the hands told Central Standard Time, but the strikers told Daylight Saving Time. Too bad some of the time grippers couldn't adjust themselves to the situation as did the clock—Danville Republican.

FISHIN' FUN

Today's column is dedicated to the memory of all those brave fish that have given their life for the Local Hopefuls might have a bit of fun. When one stops to think about it, that is the supreme effort that can be made, and deserves of our highest praise. On the other hand, when one thinks how lucky the ones that get away are, which, by the way are always the big ones, one feels that the small fish are really the ones that deserve our sympathy. So therefore you are perfectly safe if you get a can of those Wicked Wiggle Worms, because you will catch only the big ones, and they don't need our sympathy.

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDEIS If I did not know that "Hank Hayseed," who writes a local column for the Waynesboro, Pa. Record Herald, is a fine young fellow, I'd swear that he is playing a trick on me to have me put in jail and thus hope to take my place on the editorial page.

Guard Roy Reuther

DETROIT POLICE are watching over Roy Reuther (above), another of the UAW brothers, during investigation into shotgun wounding of Victor by a would-be assassin. Walter, UAW president, still carries his arm in a sling while recovering from a shotgun blast a year ago. He, too, is under guard. (International)

'I Shot My Daddy'

DOYLE TALBERT, 4, weeps after telling police at Mount Pleasant, N. C., "I shot my daddy. Daddy shot mommy on the back porch. He carried her into the bedroom and asked me to shoot him." Doyle, one of seven children of estranged Mr. and Mrs. Fetzler L. Talbert, said he pulled the trigger fatally as directed while his father held the 22-caliber gun. The father, 37, killed his wife with seven bullets. (International) ing a trick on me to have me put in jail and thus hope to take my place on the editorial page.

In one of Hank's recent columns he asked me to advise him what to do about his sacroiliac trouble.

He considers me an authority on ailments, he said, and he is sure that I can help him.

Hank knows darn well that I am no physician and that practicing medicine without a license is a criminal offense.

Is that a nice way to get a competitor out of the way?

It seems that Hank has much trouble with that sacroiliac thing and went to several doctors to get relief.

One of them told him not to sleep on a soft mattress but to get himself a bed-board instead. Hank's wife, apparently having more sense than he, (just as most wives have more sense than their husbands) figured out a much better use for the board than to cure sacroiliac trouble.

She hacked the thing up into several pieces, used part of it for a bread board, and with the other pieces nailed up mouseholes and did several other jobs around the house.

Then she took Hank's mattress, put it on the floor and told him that the floor was just as good as a bed-board.

But, being used to a bed, Hank, half asleep, got up one night stepped down, as he thought, on the floor, and, to use his own words, "My heel clunked on the hardwood floor. Not only do I have sacroiliac pains now, I also have a useless right foot."

Which reminds me of a story "Bugs" Baer told me and which he swears is true.

He had trouble with his eyes. They caused him headaches and dizzy spells and his eyesight went back on him.

So he went to a doctor. The doctor examined him carefully and then told him that the seat of the trouble was not in his eyes but in his prostate gland.

Bugs had the operation and now he can read better than ever. His eyesight is perfect again, he says.

Of course, you have all heard the story about the fellow who went to his physician because his left ear hurt him.

"Step into the next room," said the medico, "and get completely undressed."

The patient did, and told another fellow who sat there, stark naked, that he couldn't understand why he should get undressed when his ear hurt him.

"You should kick," said the other fellow. "I just came in to deliver a Western Union telegram, and I've been sitting here for two hours without a stitch of clothes on me."

Now, Hank, go ahead and put me in jail.

OBITUARY

We have gathered together in this home to pay tribute to a man who has just departed this life, Joseph Alvin McKee. If he had lived until July 6 he would have been in this vicinity for 85 years.

His parents, John W. and Elizabeth Rice McKee lived at New Maysville when Joe came to their home, on July 6, 1864, being their oldest living child. Later two sisters came as playmates.

He spent his boyhood on a farm two miles north of Bainbridge and attended school at the Franklin township school. He was married to Amanda Davis in 1886. This couple worked hard and faithfully, living Christian lives and being helpful neighbors. Death parted them in 1935. Agce Pritchard, a great nephew, was raised in their home and was like their own child to them.

After the death of Amanda Davis McKee, Joe McKee later married again, Sena Pritchard, who passed away in 1937.

He was always a tiller of the soil, as we have all seen by watching the loving care he gave to plants and by observing their response to his labor.

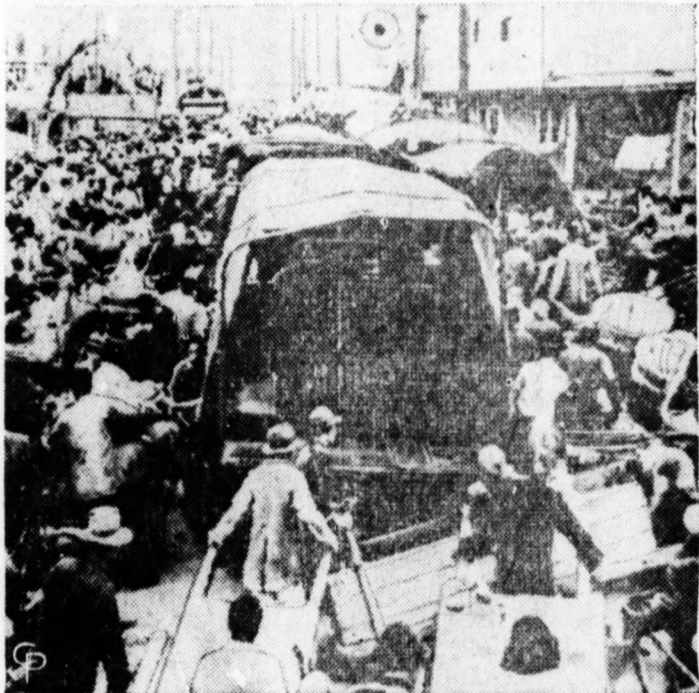

He leaves to mourn his loss two sisters, Clara McKee and Jennie Anderson, many nephews, nieces, cousins and a host of friends.

Try and Stop Me

ON THE subject of the increasing amount of profanity in college football, Herman Hickman, head coach himself after his team had gone through a whole season without a defeat.

His annual salary had been $4,000, and the assistant thought he was entitled to a 25 per cent boost. "You want $5,000?" the head coach said to him in an astonished voice. "Don't be silly, Bill. I could get a good quarterback for that."

A youngster from upstate New York asked novelist Sam Adams to help him get admitted to Groton. "You haven't a chance," Adams told him. "Unless your father, and your grandfather, too, were Groton boys in their day." The youngster, then asked, "Say, how did they get the admission?"

Any New Labor Legislation Before Adjournment Unlikely

No Senate Action in Prospect Before June 15

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Capitol Hill observers are beginning to wonder whether any new labor legislation can be enacted before the scheduled adjournment of Congress July 31.

No new labor bill is now before the House, and a Senate bill probably won't reach the floor for action before June 15.

The House set back the Taft-Hartley repeal drive by killing the Wood bill and leaving the present law on the books. That the House labor committee must approve a new act or wait for decision on the present measure.

With no action in prospect in the Senate before June 15, there will be little time for the upper chamber's measure to clear both houses.

Even President Truman, who promises voters that the Taft-Hartley law would be repealed, seems to feel that there isn't too much chance of accomplishing that objective this session.

Mr. Truman recently told a news conference that he was going to get the T-H act repealed no matter how long it takes. He indicated he could wait, if necessary, but is determined to see repeal of the controversial law before his four-year term is up.

LEWIS—Meanwhile, congressional insiders credit John L. Lewis with a major role in beating the administration's compromise bill in the House.

Lewis said nothing publicly but his views were passed behind the scenes and probably were responsible for the rejection of a group of pro-labor northern Democrats to go along with the compromise.

The United Mine Workers chief opposed the compromise matter of course, because it retained the anti-strike weapon of the Taft-Hartley law.

The miners have encountered injunction proceedings several times in recent years with resultant huge fines.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader John McCormack backed the compromise but were unable to put it over when key northern Democrats ran out on them.

Leading the revolt were Reps. Augustine B. Kelley (D., S. C.); Cleveland M. Bailey (D., West Virginia); and C. Perkins (D., Kentucky). All represent areas with big coal populations and Lewis' UMW members.

AND CLARK—Ohio Republicans are frankly delighted that Attorney General Tom Clark has seen fit to go into the Buckeye state and speak against Senate GOP policy leader Bob Taft.

Taft is up for re-election next year, with Ohio organized labor threatening to defeat him and spike his presidential aspirations any, for 1952.

However, Taft's backers feel that if the administration continues its attempted "purge" of the senator by sending non-Ohio Republicans into the state to attack him, "it will amount to a boost."

Republican strength in Ohio is being consolidated behind Taft. The senator is working hard. He realizes that his whole political future may be at stake next year.

If Taft is victorious in his drive to thwart repeal of the Hartley law, the 1950 Ohio election will have tremendous significance.

One GOP spokesman says: "This is really what we want the issues drawn, and then it will be all or nothing for followers in '52."
